March 2020

INTRODUCTION

Every fall, data gathered from training program annual reports, accreditation applications, annual fellowship surveys, and program director surveys (as they occur) will be provided to the Accreditation Council, program directors, and Board of Directors. These tools will be used by UCNS to continuously evaluate the state of its recognized subspecialties, accredited programs, and specifically by the Accreditation Council to set and evaluate accreditation outcomes. During the review, the Accreditation Council will also assess its current processes to determine whether adjustments are necessary to improve programs' accreditation experiences. The data presented in this report is through the fall accreditation cycle, December 1, 2019, unless otherwise noted, for the subspecialties of Autonomic Disorders (AD), Behavioral Neurology & Neuropsychiatry (BNNP), Clinical Neuromuscular Pathology (CNMP), Geriatric Neurology (GN), Headache Medicine (HM), Neurocritical Care (NCC), Neuroimaging (NI), and Neuro-oncology (NO).

PROGRAM GROWTH AND ATTRITION

Since 2006, UCNS has accredited 221 programs in nine neurologic subspecialties. There are currently 202 programs accredited in eight subspecialties representing 36 states, the District of Columbia, and one Canadian province. UCNS is present at a majority of institutions with ACGME-accredited neurology residencies, and 165 of the 202 programs are located within neurology departments. Program leadership (program directors and department chairs) are predominantly neurology based (93% and 82% respectively), with a specific breakdown included in the subspecialty-specific section later in this report. As of December 1, 2019, the growth in the number of accredited programs in all subspecialties per year is shown in the charts below.

Despite continued growth, accreditation attrition has occurred for a variety of reasons, most often due to loss of key leadership or the inability to secure or maintain institutional support or funding. As of December 1, 2019, UCNS has lost 19 programs to attrition since 2006, four in 2019, with a 91.4% overall retention rate.

GROWTH PER YEAR PER SUBSPECIALTY

The number of programs accredited per year per subspecialty varies, starting with BNNP in 2006 through the newest subspecialty, CNMP, in 2013. The table below shows the growth per year, per subspecialty without attrition and the number of programs accredited per year with attrition.

From 2014 through 2018, UCNS can look at the trend in program growth among the subspecialties. The table on page four illustrates that six of the eight subspecialties saw an overall growth in the number of programs from 2014 to 2018, ranging from one program to 18 over the five-year period. No subspecialty saw an overall loss.

FELLOWS

From 2006 through 2018, 1,220 physicians have filled 2,853.5 first-year fellowship spots and have graduated from the currently accredited UCNS programs. A table illustrating the program graduates by subspecialty by year is included later in the report in the subspecialty-specific portion of the report. The largest number of fellows have graduated from NCC (567) followed by BNNP (200), HM (189), NO (177), CNMP (42), NI (35), AD (7), and GN (3).

Of the 1,220 graduates, 1,000 are neurologists, and an additional 12 report they are neurologist/internists and 2 psychiatrist/neurologists, which means 83% of UCNS graduates have a primary certification in neurology. A specific breakdown of the other specialties represented in each subspecialty may be found in the subspecialty-specific section of the report. Twenty-three program graduates are certified in Canada and 1,113 are boarded by an American Board of Medical Specialties Board (ABMS).

FELLOW ENROLLMENT, COMPLETION, AND UCNS CERTIFICATION

Fellow Enrollment

The information provided for fellow enrollment is limited to first-year enrollment as not all programs offer a second- or third-year option. Most programs (n=89) enroll only one fellow; however, the number of requested fellows per year varies from zero for two programs currently inactive to six fellows per year. The following table illustrates the number of fellowship spots approved for 195 programs accredited as of June 1, 2019 (three programs are not represented because they were inactive and withdrew accreditation effective December 1, 2019). Approved fellows that include a .5 are noted as such because the program either has requested a different number of fellows each year (e.g., 1 in odd years and 2 in even years), or because a fellow must complete an entire multiple-year program before the program will enroll another fellow.

Enrollment Comparisons: 2016, 2017, and 2018

With the implementation of the annual reporting system in 2016, UCNS has a mechanism to compare program statistics on a year-to-year basis. Previously, program information was collected only when a program was due for an accreditation review, which occurs between one and five years. A comparison of the approved fellowship spots and first-year fellow enrollment between 2016, 2017, and 2018 follows. As shown, the majority of the subspecialties show an increase or equal first-year fill rates between 2017 and 2018. The filled spots show a slight decrease from 2017 to 2018 for HM and NI, which is likely due to program attrition. No fellows enrolled in GN programs in 2017 or 2018.

Fellow Completion and Certification

Of the 1,220 graduates, 863 (70.7%) have gone on to pursue UCNS certification, with another 98 who have applied to take upcoming 2019 examinations that have completed their upcoming application cycles (CNMP, NCC, and NO). If all candidates pass their respective certification examinations, the number of graduates who are certified will increase to 961 (78.7%). It is important to note that the 1,220 graduates include fellows who are not boarded through the ABMS or Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada (RCPSC) and are not eligible for a UCNS certification examination (84), and those who have graduated from a subspecialty when no examination has been available (GN 3). Removing these graduates increases the percentage certified to 76.2% of graduates who have sought UCNS certification following completion of an accredited program. A breakdown of the graduates per year per subspecialty, with certification rates, is shown below. The data from 2016 and 2017 is also available for comparison. It is interesting to note that, while not illustrated in the table below, the data shows there is a significant portion of fellows who do not apply for the first available certification examination after their graduation.

FELLOWSHIP EVALUATION SURVEY

From May 30 through June 30, 2019, UCNS surveyed 301 fellows completing a UCNS-accredited fellowship. Fourteen fellows with undeliverable or no email addresses were unable to receive the survey invitation. Reminder emails for those who did not complete the survey were sent periodically during the collection period. Emails were also sent to program directors and program coordinators asking them to encourage their fellows to complete the survey. A reminder email was also sent to program directors and coordinators with fellows who had not yet completed the survey. Responses from 284 fellows were collected, of which 277 completed the survey. Fellows from 123 of the 128 programs with enrolled fellows responded. The highest number of responders identified as fellows enrolled in an NCC program (152), followed by BNNP (43), NO (38), HM (27), CNMP (12), AD (3), AD (3), GN (2), and NI (2). It should be noted that no fellow was identified by programs as being enrolled in a GN program; however, two fellows chose GN as their subspecialty. Both fellows are currently enrolled in a BNNP program.

Fellows were next asked to identify their primary specialty. The information identified closely aligns with the information received in the annual reports. Most of the respondents reported being primarily certified in Neurology (212), followed by the specialties identified in the following chart. "Other" is comprised of pediatric hematology/oncology (1), pediatric neurology (2), child neurology (2), geriatrics (1), pulmonary and critical care (1), and neuromuscular medicine (1).

One hundred seventy-seven fellows reported being enrolled in their first year, 95 in their second year, and six in the third year of their fellowship, with 157 graduating in 2019.

Fellows were next asked a series of questions to confirm their program's compliance with specific program requirements, responses of which are summarized below. Narrative comments are not provided.

Analysis and Outcomes

The 92% (n=277) response rate exceeded initial expectations, providing UCNS with a solid foundation of data to continue monitoring outcomes thresholds. One hundred twenty-three programs were represented, with only five programs that identified as having at least one enrolled fellow not participating. Most of the survey responses indicate fellow-perceived compliance with the program requirements regarding resource availability, curriculum, evaluation, and duty hours requirements. Two hundred five (74%) fellows indicated that they felt their training program prepared them for independent practice in the subspecialty, with 70 (25.3%) indicating they would not be graduating this year. Only two fellows felt that their experience in the program did not prepare them for independent practice in the subspecialty. In addition, fellows were asked to rate their fellowship experience on a scale of one to five, with five being the best. The weighted average was 4.55, with 170 rating 5, 92 rating 4, 12 rating 3, 2 rating 2, and 1 rating 1.

When asked about taking the UCNS certification within four years of graduation, all but 27 respondents indicated that they would be seeking UCNS certification in the future. Eight of the respondents cited the upcoming American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology NCC examination as the reason, while others indicated certification eligibility issues as the reason. Two cite dissatisfaction with certification or the certification process as the reason for not seeking certification in the future.

The data received in the survey will be used as program outcomes and will be shared with programs annually, along with a summary of the data received in the annual report. Outcomes for the survey will include both the response rate of fellows completing the survey and the responses themselves. Programs that show a trend of negative responses or who do not meet other identified benchmarks will trigger a comprehensive review. Other outcomes that will be tracked by UCNS include fellow recruitment, fellow graduation and attrition, fellow performance on certification examinations, fellow scholarly activity, and milestone submission (once implemented).

SUBSPECIALTY-SPECIFIC STATISTICS

The following information includes the year programs were first accredited in each subspecialty, the current number of accredited programs, and the number lost to attrition. In addition, the programs' duration, overseeing department, and program directors' specialties are included. For fellows, the number of graduates, number of graduates certified by UCNS, and the graduates' primary specialties and ABMS/RCPSC eligibility are listed. Enrollment numbers of approved and filled spots for 2016, 2017, and 2018 are also provided.
